EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

2. The application has been amended as follows:

In the claims:

Claim 1, line 2, the word "their" has been changed to the phrase --the air--.

The above change was done to correct a minor typographical error.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art did not teach or suggest an air gun with a quick-releasing device as claimed by the applicant, specifically an air gun comprising a quick-releasing device mounted on the distal end of the head tube wherein the quick-release device comprises a slit vertically defined in the distal end of the head tube to communicate with an inner space of the head tube, a locking sheet movably received inside the slit to partially enter the inner space of the head tube and a locking lever with a recoiling spring pivotally mounted on the head tube and having a tongue penetrating the locking sheet, wherein the recoiling spring keeps the locking lever pressing the locking sheet down to enter in the inner space of the head tube, a detachably functional tip attached to the head tube and secured by engaging with the locking sheet of the quick-releasing device, together in combination with the other claimed features of applicant's invention. The closest prior art being references Jou '784 and Mermillod, however, neither reference taught the above limitations and it would not have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify either reference to include the above limitations as claimed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
